OUR HISTORY

75 Years

Our firm has been providing clients with exemplary legal service for the past 75 years. We have experienced lawyers who are familiar with obscure case law and highly skilled in the courtroom. We have spent most of the last century creating our reputation for excellent service.

Building the Firm

Thomas Lewis Jones began a general practice involving a variety of litigation shortly after he finished law school in 1933. Mr. Jones partnered with Frederick White to form White and Jones in 1962. The firm took its current name of Jones, Gregg, Creehan, & Gerace in 1968.

OUR APPROACH

Our Service

For 75 years, our firm has provided quality representation to our clients. We listen carefully to clients and pay full attention to all of our clients' concerns. Our lawyers understand that every case is different and act according to each client's individual needs.

We provide high quality legal services at an affordable cost. At all times we strive for excellence.

"We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit."
